As long as the black flame of Anarchist resistance continues ablaze, scorching through the binds of authoritarian domination in the heart of even just one. Anarchy will never die.

Anarchism is not a goal to be achieved or a utopia to be built, but rather an action one takes in the here and now.

Anarchy is what you do when the cops aren't looking. It's the act of resistance for the sake of resistance itself. When the world is fucked beyond all repair, the act of resisting those who put you here is a beauty in itself.

I have long left behind action in service of a pipe-dream revolution, action out of responsibility or obligation. When I resist it is for no one's sake but mine. Because the mere act of resistance is a beautiful art. And it's time to make the art of resistance a fun and creative endeavour. An explosion of human expression.

What is the purpose of this Zine? Simple;

ANARCHY FOR FUN!

Where in the world is Anarchy now?

It's everywhere, all the time.

Right now there's an affinity group illegally feeding their unhoused neighbors in public. Right now there's someone stealing from a corporate grocery chain as a fuck you to the life authority has set out for them. Right now there are squatters sitting around an abandoned building with acoustic guitars singing songs about fucking the system.

Right now there's an Anarchist writing a zine to spark the black flame of resistance in the hearts of anyone who might listen.

You don't have to wait for the conditions of revolution to be set in motion.

You can act right now. You can do whatever you damn well please. Unapologetically and without permission from above.

"Justice doesn't flow from police guns.
I'm reminded of that all the time,
AS LONG AS THERE IS A LAW
PEACE WILL BE A CRIME!"

- Ramshackle Glory

MUSIC:

Ah, the sounds of ANARCHY! What would a movement be without a soundtrack to our attack? The great Emma Goldman once said "If I can't dance, I don't want your revolution, I want Anarchy and Peace!" ...or maybe that was Crass, I dunno. Anyway here are some essential albums from Anarchist Artists:

CRASS - The Feeding of the 5000

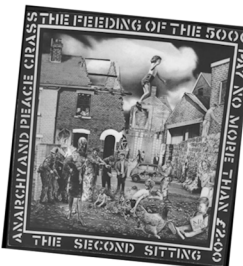

Ramshackle Glory - Live the Dream

Propagandhi - Less Talk, More Rock

The Orphans - Raise the Youth

Against All Authority - All Fall Down

Millions of Dead Cops - S/T
